

References

- Breakfast Clubs of Canada. (2011). www.breakfastclubscanada.org
- Breakfast for Learning. (2011). <http://www.breakfastforlearning.ca>
- Community Business Development Corporation. (2011). www.cbdc.ca
- Curriculum Services Canada. (2011). www.cirriculum.org
- Economic and Social Inclusion Corporation. (2011). Fact check - poverty in New Brunswick. Government of New Brunswick. http://www2.gnb.ca/content/gnb/en/departments/esic/overview/content/fact_check_povertyinnewbrunswick.html#1
- Evergreen. (2011). www.evergreen.ca
- FoodShare Toronto. (2011). Three main recommendations for all three levels of government. In Policy Recommendations 2011. <http://www.foodshare.net/foodPolicyrecommendations2011.htm>
- Human Development Council. (2010). Child poverty report card New Brunswick. <http://www.campaign2000.ca/reportCards/provincial/New%20Brunswick/2010Childand%20FamilyPovertyReportCardEnglish.pdf>
- Leeder, J. (2011). Teaching food literacy, one school lunch at a time. Globe and Mail.
- Lesperance, E. (2006). 5 Important reasons your child should eat breakfast. The Diet Channel.
- NB 2026. (2010). Learning: Everybody's Project. <http://learninginnb.ca/>
- New Brunswick Department of Education. (2008). Policy 711. <http://www.gnb.ca/0000/pol/e/711A.pdf>
- Russel, J. (2004). Best practices for child nutrition programs: A review of the literature. http://www.childnutritioncouncil.com/best_practices_review0305.pdf
- United Commercial Travelers. (2011). www.utc.org
- United Way. (2011). www.unitedwaycentral.com
- Wells, K. (2005). Gay-straight student alliance handbook. Alberta Teachers' Association.
- World Health Organization. (1998). WHO information series on school health: Document four. Healthy nutrition: An essential element of health-promoting school. http://www.who.int/school_youth_health/media/en/428.pdf