

Professional Supports

As casual members, you are welcome to attend branch meetings. If you are a long-term supply, your branch will be determined by your location of work. If you are a day-to-day supply, your branch will be determined by your place of residence. If you are unsure of your branch assignment, please contact Carlene Parker (carlene.parker@nbta.ca) for further information.

A wealth of information is found on the NBTA and NBTF websites.

www.nbta.ca

Highlights on the NBTA site include a resource section for professional learning, contact information for branches, and the code of ethics.

www.nbtffenb.ca

Highlights on the NBTF site include a section for supply teachers and the collective agreement.

The NBTA newsletter, NBTA News, is published four times each year and is posted on the NBTA website. Hard copies are available by request.

Professional Learning Opportunities

When you register with the NBTA, you will select membership in the Elementary, Middle Level, or High School Council. Councils provide their members with access to a number of professional learning opportunities.

As members, you are also welcome to attend learning opportunities sponsored by your local branch.

Funding support is available for professional learning opportunities. Consult the NBTA website and/or contact your Branch PL Chair for more information about provincial grants and upcoming events.
